

SCFCL HANDBOOK

The SCFCL Handbook is published every year and has been since its beginning in 1921 even through the many name changes (South Carolina Home Demonstration Council, South Carolina Extension Homemakers Council, South Carolina Association for Family and Community Education, and now, South Carolina Family and Community Leaders.)

The Handbook is a compilation of the policies, procedures and other important information that is intended to provide quick and portable reference. It contains the history of SCFCL and its affiliated organizations; goals, mission, motto, logo, song and creed; bylaws and policies/standing rules; yearly calendar of all activities, meetings and conferences; officers, board members, county presidents and extension support staff with their duties; and details about awards and committees.

Before the end of each year, new information is collected, the handbook is updated, published and in January a copy is given to officers and board members, advisors, county support staff and committee chair for use until the next issue is published. A copy of the Handbook is placed on the SCFCL website at: scfcl.com "Resources". Extra copies can be purchased by using the below form.
